Description

Beautifully constructed with traditional charm close to Ibiza's beautiful west coast.
Can Cala Bassa is a traditional Ibicenco style property with many modern touches, situated on a hillside by the village of San Agustin.

In an ideal location for exploring the beautiful west coast beaches of Cala Bassa and Cala Conta, the pretty village feels almost untouched by modern tourism. Take a wander to discover the whitewashed church and the tiny neighbourhood bar.

The neighbouring countryside is a picturesque spot for hiking and cycling – or simply enjoy it from the comfort of your private L-shaped pool and the sunny terraces of Can Cala Bassa. Chill out on a beanbag on the wooden deck shaded by fragrant pines, or soak up some legendary Ibizan sunshine on a poolside lounger.

Close to the house, a wide terrace with chill-out seating area and al-fresco dining table, seating ten, are shaded by a traditional wooden-beamed roof. Elsewhere in the gardens, you will discover a further seating area shaded by tall pines and a wooden pergola with an alternative outside dining space, seating ten.

Can Cala Bassa's interiors are a cool blend of terracotta tiled floors, whitewashed walls and traditional wooden ceilings mixed with modern minimalism and high-tech luxuries. A sociable kitchen with sunny breakfast table leads onto an interior dining space, seating six, and a spacious lounge with access onto the terrace.

Three of the bedrooms are to be found in the main house, while additional guest accommodation is located in three casitas in the grounds, each with twin beds, en-suite bathroom and terrace access.
Can Cala Bassa is a cool, countryside property in a wonderful location for enjoying the famed beaches and sunsets of Ibiza's west coast.

Local information:
San Antonio is the second largest town west of Ibiza embraced by the homonymous bay and is considered by some of the clubbing capital of the world. San Antonio, a small fishing village of the past, began to grow in the late 1950s when many hotels and tourist resorts popped up in the area. Today San Antonio is a lively resort dotted with scenic cafes and clubs, also offering plenty of water activities. Here you can listen to the world's best DJs, enjoy great food, and one of the most mesmerising sunsets.

San Antonio is set in one of the largest and most beautiful natural harbors in Europe, San Antonio Bay, boasting calm waters and attracting myriads of visitors every year. The main part of town towards the marina and port features an elegant palm-tree-lined promenade adorned with plants and flowers as well as impressive fountains that light up at night, creating a unique atmosphere. Here you can enjoy fine dining in a cosmopolitan ambiance.

Last but definitely not least are the crystalline beaches of this area. The main beach of San Antonio, S'Arenal, is a long strip of soft sand with shallow waters, safe for children. Es Puet beach further down is popular with water sports fans. Explore the sandy beach of Calo des Moro and get some suntan on the wooden platform after a refreshing dive. Just a 15-minute walk from Calo des Moro towards the west, you will come across the lovely beach of Cala Gracio. For more blue options, the west offers plenty of beautiful bays such as Cala Conta, Cala Bassa and Cala Salada.
